PROFILE

- I am a dedicated front-end developer with a passion for creating visually appealing and intuitive user interfaces. I've been at it for 3 years experience, my strengths lie in translating design concepts into responsive and interactive web applications, and I'm really good with HTML, CSS, and JavaScript. Making things look great and work smoothly is my thing. I pay close attention to the details, making sure everything looks perfect on all devices. I enjoy working with design and backend teams to create cool and user-friendly websites. I'm always learning and keeping up with the latest tech trends to bring fresh ideas to the table. Let's build something awesome together!
